THE LIFE-SAVING SERVICE.

No less than 811 lives were saved by he men at the various stations, while No less than 81l lives were saved by the men at the various stations, while the total value of property saved was $12,296,100. Work that bears such fruit certainly deserves to be encouraged and enlarged, and the recommendation of General Superintendent Kimbail that retirement pensions be provided for members of the life-saving department is not without merit. The time for civil pensions has not yet come, but the service of the life-savers is one of such hardship and danger that it approaches nearly to the perils and the dignity of the army and pavy. The United States Life-Saving Service controls 278 stations, of which 200 are on the Atlantic coast, sixteen on the Pacific coast, one in Alaska, one on the Ohlo river, and sixty on the great lakes.—Cleveland Leader.

YUCA RIVALS INDIAN CORN.

YUCA RIVALS INDIAN CORN.

If the estimates of the United States Department of Agriculture regarding the possibilities of the cultivation of yuca are well founded, corn has a great rival in the form of this starch-producing root. It is said that 1,600 pounds to the acre is the average yield, and 2,300 pounds would not be an excessive crop, while corn yields on an average about twenty-five bushels to the acre, and its starch-producing power is only about $15 pounds to the acre, or 550 pounds less than the smallest quantity of starch which yuca should yield. This plant belongs to the great milk-weed family, and in its natural state the root, sometimes known as cassava, contains so large a percentage of prussic acld as to make it poisonous, but cooking drives off the poison and makes the resulting product not only wholesome, but an excellent food for men and cattle.

COBWEBS DRAPE RESIDENCE OF THE MISSING RECLUSE

Police Are Unable to Find Trace of Isaac Jones.

Deserted and filled with cobwebs and dust that have accumulated during the last three months, the home of Isaac S. Jones, the aged recluse, who has been missing since October 15, presents a gloomy appearance. The shutters on the first floor are drawn and tightly fastened, and everything about the place would lead one to believe that inside preparations were being made for the funeral of a relative, or that a membe of the family lay in the last stages of a fatal illness. It was understood that Mr. Jones had friends living in Newark, N. J., and Parsons, Kan. Both cities were com-municated with, and Major Sylvester received replies stating that nothing was known of him in either place. In-quiries were made by the police of both places, and it was learned that he had not been in Parsons or Newark for many months—some time before he dis-appeared from Washington, Fruitless Search.

Last November an aged man was killed by the railroad in South Wash-ington. Wis body lay at the morgue for several weeks, but was never identified and was finally buried by the District.
There was a mark on the man's clothing which led the police to believe that his name was Jones. Precinct Detective Vermillion, of No. 6, who has been in-vestigating the case, went to the morgue w. B. HARRIS, Indianapol's, died in Einergency Hospital at Kankakee. HENRY A. PRICE, Long Beach, Cal., instantly killed.

The charred bodies taken from the smoldering wreek of the passenger train are those of men, women, and children. The injured were hurried to Kankakee in a special train. Of the patients at the hospitals, two or three will probably die.

Verminion, of No. 6, who has been investigating the case, went to the morgue last evening and examined samples of the clothing and ran down other clues, believing that there was a possibility that the dead man might be Mr. Jones, inspector Boardman stated yesterday, however, that he was satisfied that the man was not Mr. Jones, and the police are now working on other clues.

The house at 126 D street northwest s a large ten-room structure, and was is a large ten-room structure, and was purchased by Mr. Jones a little over a year ago. He lived by himself and so far as the neighbors could learn never entertained and seldom went out. He paid no attention to persons living on either side of him, and never showed any inclination to become friendly with those living in the same block.

SCIENCE IN DAIRY METHODS.

In Denmark the dairymen have succeeded in making every animal pay profits. This was done by thirty or more owners of dairies employing an official tester to report upon the results from individual cows. After carefully watching and weighing the milk for a given time the inspector reported on Filomena had fallen prone in her terror, and Jose thought she was killed. Kneeling in the middle of the street, he stitus cheek by Jowl with Lord Clonmel. Why my friends, when I was a Tipperary lad I couldn't get near enough to his lordship to hit him with a shotty which is lordship to hit him with a shotty whole party. Lord Clonmel included, fell whole party, Lord Clonmel included, fell out of their chairs from laughter.

I mother, God bless her, had hardly the pennies to bring me over, and here I am the individuals in each herd. The sult was that poor cows went to the meat market and the producing value for dairy cows increased in one year from $13 to $60 each. Such results came from a system of working everyting for profit. That is the spirit that control out of their chairs from laughter.
